—The Indian Commissioners have notified Secretary Harlan that they have ascertained that John Ross, the educated Cherokee, and formerly Chief of that Nation, was a Rebel emissary during the rebellion, and, by means of his superior education and adroitness, induced many of his people to abjure their allegiance to the United States, and to join the armies of the Confederate States. He still claims to be Chief of the Cherokees, and as such is using his subtle influence to poison the minds of those Indians who are truly loyal, and who are disposed to enter into a permanent peace and amity with the United States. The Commissioners have therefore refused to recognize him, and the President sustains them.

—The Secretary of the Treasury has modified the instructions in relation to shipment of fire-arms and ammunition into the States lately in rebellion. Sporting guns and ammunition, therefor, and powder for mining purposes can be shipped on permits granted by a collector of customs without reference to the Department.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, SATURDAY, SEPT. 30, 1865. NO. 872

THE CITY.

YOM KIPPUR—THE JEWISH DAY OF ATONEMENT.—This day (the 30th of September) is the most solemn and sacred in the Jewish calendar. We are not aware that our Israelitish friends have a synagogue in this city, but whether organized or not, many of their number here will doubtless "afflict their souls" after the custom or requirements of their creed, the soul by repentance and the body by fasting from "even to even." The origin and institution of Yom Kippur is to be found in Lev. xvi. 29. "And it shall be unto you a statute forever, in the seventh month on the tenth of the month, you shall afflict your souls and do no work at all," &c. "The first among your Sabbaths this shall be unto you," &c., and again in Lev. xxiv., which the reader may refer to.

While the Israelites in their own land worshipped at the altar of their temple, and in strict accordance with the rites dictated by their God through Moses, the service of this day was equally splendid. It was the only day through the year on which even the high priest presumed to enter the most holy sanctuary of the temple, or to pronounce the venerated and dreaded name of the Deity, which, at any other time, it was unlawful even for him to utter. According to tradition, even before the giving of the Law, this was a day of atonement and pardon. Adam did penance and was pardoned on this day, Abraham entered into covenant of the circumcision on this day, Moses, after he had broken the first tablets, ascended the Mount again on the first day of Elul, so that the second forty days expired with the Yom Kippur, on which day the Lord pardoned his people and revealed his thirteen attributes.

The eve is allotted to solemn feasting, and at sunset the twenty-four hours fast and continued prayers commence. These prayers chiefly consist of confessions of sins and imploring divine mercy for pardon. It is customary in the evening for the parent to give his benediction to his children, with all the solemnity of his dying moments. Whosoever meet on this day, be they acquainted or not, salute each other with brotherly love and sincerity. All private disputes are reconciled before the parties can presume to enter the sanctuary on this day, and he that is conscious of having wronged his neighbor is bound to make reparation. At the close of the services one long note is sounded to commemorate the blowing of the trumpet, which formerly took place on this day in the land of Judea, in case that the year was a year of jubilee.

ANOTHER OUTRAGE.—A party of gentlemen and some ladies, we regret to hear, were attacked on Thursday night, about our miles from the city, on the Pittsboro road. As the statement comes to us, they were coming to Raleigh to market and camped at the point mentioned. Ten or twelve negroes then approached and attacked them. They soon, however, obtained arms, when the negroes ran off. The assaulted party afterwards heard fire-arms a short distance above them, the darkies having discharged their guns without either showing themselves or giving any intimation of such a purpose.

This and other recent transactions of a similar nature induce us to warn country folks from the bad habit of camping on the suburbs of the city. Besides, they should come prepared to summarily dispatch lawless bands whether white or black. But a short time can elapse before civil authority will be fully restored—until then they must protect themselves with the aid of the military.

BOARD OF TRADE.—With what reason we have never been able to understand, but certain it is that inland towns and cities rarely ever organize boards of trade. We hope that the business men of Raleigh will, however, set a good example of reform in this matter by forming such an institution at once. A thorough knowledge of the productions, and the condition of mechanical industry in the country round about us will be of infinite advantage to the mercantile community. Indeed, in the absence of such statistics, it is almost impossible to see how merchants and tradesmen can make selections of their supplies with any considerable degree of intelligence.

A FIXED FACT.—With their accustomed modesty, Maxon & Strong this morning salute the people by a partial enumeration of the new and really elegant goods just received from the North. The firm is a Strong one in more than one respect, adding to other qualities industry, enterprise, experience and politeness. Young in the trade here, they are old merchants of reputation and integrity, and we can confidently commend them to city and country patronage. Read their advertisement and then look for yourselves.

DIRECT TRADE WITH EUROPE.—Messrs. Hughes & Dill, two of the most enterprising men in the State, announce in our advertising columns that they are freighting the fine ship Benj. Adams at Morehead City, direct for Liverpool. Certainly this bare mention will be ample to induce our people to send forward cotton, naval stores and other supplies adapted to the demands of foreign markets. Let us see to it that such enterprises are not withdrawn for want of full freightage.

MONUMENTS, MANTELS, &c.—From their advertisement it will be seen that Messrs. King, Whitelaw & Co., have established themselves at the old stand of Maunder & Co., on Fayetteville street, and that they are prepared to furnish almost anything which can be fashioned from marble. They are experts in their business and will give prompt attention to all orders in their line.

WHO ARE THEIRS.—It appears exceedingly difficult for freedmen's conventions to select which of their number will be furnished transportation at expense of the government. Only those destitute refugees and freedmen who are dependent upon the United States for support are entitled, and then merely to such parties as are likely to find employment and become self-supporting. The assistant commissioners are required to confine such grants to their particular jurisdictions.

It will tend to lay an embargo on certain pestiferous individuals, now that only the regularly recognized teachers of the freedmen are to be allowed free transportation.

THE ORPHAN CONVENTION.—Agreeable to previous appointment, delegates representing colored men in a number of the counties of this State, assembled in Raleigh, yesterday, in the Methodist African Church. Their temporary organization was effected by calling John Good, of Craven, to the chair, and the appointment of John Randall and Geo. W. Price as Secretaries.

Committees were then selected on credentials, rules for government of the convention, on permanent organization, &c., after which an adjournment to 2 o'clock, was moved and carried.

During the afternoon permanent officers were reported as annexed:

President—J. W. Hood, Newbern.

Vice Presidents—J. P. Shanks, Charlotte, J. H. Harris, Raleigh; J. P. Sampson, Wilmington; Isham Sweet, Fayetteville; Wm. Smith, Wilmington; Stewart Ellison, Wake; and Sergeant Littleton, 1st N. C. Heavy artillery.

Secretary—John Randolph, Jr., Newbern.

Assistant Secretary—Wm Cawthorn, Warren.

Treasurer—J. K Caswell, Wake.

Chaplain—Alex Bass, Wake.

Doorkeepers—Lee Jasper and J. H. Jones.

Other proceedings had are crowded out, but we hear from those who were present that no disorder or indecorum has been manifested since the session began.

GOOD FOR MYNER.—Before the close of the war paints, in the South, were very scarce. A merchant in this city applied to Myner to paint him a sign. With great gravity, M heard the applicant through. His only reply was "a perverse and wicked generation seeketh after a sign, but they shall have no sign"—and left him to his meditation. The fact was, Myner had no paint.

THE NATIONAL BANK—located in this city,—went into operation on the 27th inst., last Wednesday, with George W. Swepson as president of the Directory—The members of the board are Joseph S Cannon vice president; Joseph W. Holden and C. P. Mendenhall. Our old friend W. B. Gulick is the cashier—a most excellent selection.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Attention is asked to the new advertisements this morning:

W. R. Prince—Catarrh, consumption, scrofula, &c.

James M. Harris—Private Boarding House.

B. P. Williamson—Extra Superfine Flour and Prime Havana Cigars.

BURNT.—An accident occurred at the gas-house, Thursday evening, by which two young men Messrs. William and James King were slightly burnt about their faces and hands. Report had it that they were dreadfully injured, but we are glad to contradict it, as also the rumored hurt of a colored man.

CITY HALL.—Those who are partial to such things as the science of self defence or sparring by professors of the art, dancing and the like, will not forget the exhibition at City Hall this evening.—See programmes.

CALLED COURT.—There will be a session of the county court held here to-day, to transact important business.

—Belgium has been visited by a waterspout of extraordinary violence. It occurred in the neighborhood of Liege, and has spread ruin far and wide.—The accompanying gale caught people up in the air and dashed them to the ground, cut off the tops of some large trees, and felled many other trees to the ground, stopped railway trains and overthrew houses, and was attended by thunder and floods of rain.—Altogether it was one of the most disastrous storms that has ever visited the country.

—The National Equal Rights League assembled in annual meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, last week.—About one hundred and fifty delegates were present, comprising representatives from Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, New York, Michigan, New Jersey, Connecticut, Ohio, Pennsylvania and other States.—The meeting was largely attended by colored men in the South. The main purpose of the Equal Rights League is to secure for the colored people of this country equality before State and national law.

LONG TRAILS AGAIN.—A letter from a fashionable watering place says:

"The long trails are most again; with the general cry of 'stand from under.' Between the length and circumference of the dresses one is appalled in attempting to thread his way through the ball room. The Cretan labyrinth was nothing to some of the Parisienne innovations. But it is idle to deny that there is grace and elegance, as well as magnificence, in all these grand displays, and the sparkling gems upon fair arms and fingers of queens add greatly to the attraction. Increased cost, increased taxes, with petroleum down and gold up, with dominant [illegible] comes and business, only revive the old faith that one half the people wonder and study how the other half live."

MARRIED,

At Exeter, Wake County, on Thursday morning, the 28th instant, by the Rev. Solomon Ivey, WILLIAM H. BURROUGHS, Esq., of Orange County, to Miss CORNELIA LEWIS LANDER, eldest daughter of the late William J. Lander.

DIED,

In Portsmouth, Va., on the 19th inst., suddenly and of an attack very like cholera, THOMAS D. SMAW, Esq., aged 56 years and 6 months.

It too frequently happens that extreme eulogy follows the death of men whose lives were not distinguished by any conspicuous excellence. The writer of this, however, believes that few men have deserved better commendation than Mr. D. for exemplary and genuine piety. He appeared to strive to model all his conduct—in the family, the church and society—upon a basis rigidly Scriptural. It is no marvel, therefore, that such an one should have enjoyed unmolested adhesion from his friends and household; respect and confidence from the community among whom he resided; and the love and trust of the church with which he in early youth formed an association. He was really a good man and his departure is severely felt in that "one bright chair" where the just are made perfect.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 30, 1865.

The State Convention—Quick Work Possible.

We find in the Newbern Times a letter from Mr. M. E. Manly, delegate elect from Craven, to his constituents, from which we copy:

"The elements of society are in extreme disorder. The consequences are momentous, and the responsibilities, therefore, of the Convention, are of the profoundest character, reaching far above and beyond ordinary questions in politics.

"Seeking light from all proper quarters, in humble dependence upon the blessing of God, I shall strive with all my might to aid in conducting the deliberations of the Convention to a speedy, safe and honorable close.

"My views lead me to suppose we can accomplish all that is needful to restore the State to the Federal Union in a few days. Most of the questions which disturb us may be well left to the future, when we shall be in a better frame of mind to discuss and settle them.

"I hope to meet you soon (as soon as the Convention shall adjourn) and have free intercourse upon subjects connected with its action as well as other matters of interest."

It was reported here that Mr. Manly would not be qualified from some cause for taking his seat in the body, but he avows that all obstacles to such privilege will be removed. If it was otherwise, the conservative tone of the circular we cite might warrant even former opponents in regretting that any disqualification existed. There is the additional fact, too, of the facility with which Mr. Manly supposes the work may be performed. We agree with that opinion and hope the members of the Convention generally will come here with like determination. It is really important that there should be harmony, promptness, avoidance of crimination and recrimination, so that the legislature may be chosen at the earliest possible day, as well as delegates to Congress. Let us have an undivided effort in behalf of the State and restoration to the ancient privilege of the Union.

"What has Been Secured."

In a late issue of Mr. Forney's paper, the Washington Chronicle, we find an editorial in which occurs these passages:

"In less than six months after the surrender of the rebel armies, three important measures for immunity for the past and security of the future, have been almost consummated, and may now be regarded as fixed and unalterable. To these three important objects the representatives of the people lately in insurrection against the National authority may be said to have formally consented. And if there is any circumstance necessary to complete and to ratify them, it will soon be secured beyond peradventure. These measures and objects are as follows:

"I. The ratification, by all the recent insurgent or rebellious States, of the joint resolution of Congres amending the Federal Constitution, by forever abolishing slavery in the United States.

"II. The abrogation and repeal of all laws, codes, or provisions, State or municipal, for the protection of slavery, for the oppression of the colored man, and for the withholding from him the rights secured to all of his race, in most of the free States of the Republic

"III The authoritative avowal that none of the debts incurred in the prosecution of the rebellion against the national authority, either State or national, shall ever be paid or be made the pretext for taxing the people, or for a claim upon the Government of the United States."

In the late speech of Hon. Mr. Vallandigham to Ohio democrats, he is reported thus:

"Vallandigham also said that the public securities would soon be in the hands of fifty thousand men, who will hold three thousand millions of the national wealth exempt from taxation, while the balance of the people will be compelled to pay one hundred and seventy millions of tax. exclusively for the benefit of the bond-holders. He said that for this the Republicans had better not charge repudiation upon the Democratic party, lest they so familiarize the people with the idea, that they resolve to repudiate the whole debt. At this the crowd again broke forth in loud approval."

We transfer these extracts to this paper for the purpose of showing that Mr. Forney, who was, during the war, the embodiment of unconditional Unionism, and Mr. Vallandigham, who then and now maintains that the South was justified in secession, entertain opinions respecting the future not altogether inharmonious. The difference is rather in the extent and object of repudiation; both appear to applaud the principle.

But the real significance of the matter—for we are not now applauding either Mr. Forney or Mr. Vallandigham—is the open confession of these two sagacious and distinguished politicians that party lines are soon to be drawn as distinctly as in past periods; that the question of slavery being disposed of will not make a plank in future platforms; that the dividing issues are not yet distinctly made up; and that the probabilities are strong in favor of the conclusion that the main point of difference will be, whether the whole, or only that part incurred by the South, of the public debt, shall be repudiated.

Political necromancers, jugglers, acrobats, and the people, are thus permitted to see, even in this brief space of time since the collapse, that the "fishes and loaves" have not lost their charm by reason of war.

SALISBURY.—Our city is improving and has nearly thrown off all appearance of the wear and tear of war. The stores are filled with all kinds of goods and every day the Express and the Rail Road bring new lots of goods to our merchants. The demand for stores is great and rents are very high. With the prosperity of the city, this journal increases its circulation and influence; and we are safe in saying thus to advertisers it presents a most valuable medium for Western North Carolina.—Salisbury Banner.

—It is worth of notice that Gen. Grant's speeches grow longer and longer, and it may be questioned whether he will not become an orator by and by. His last speech was ten lines long.

Who Invented the Electric Telegraph.

It begins to be gravely disputed whether Professor Morse is entitled to the honor and distinction of inventing the telegraph. A writer, "Justice," in one of our city papers, in writing of the disputed point, says:

In noticing the article, you say that "if it be true that a North Carolina lawyer, a resident of Davidson county in this State, was the inventor of the telegraph, his name should be given and the fact should be established"

The lawyer referred to is Julius L. Clemmons, Esq., who was born and raised in the village of Clemmonsville, in said county, was educated at Randolph Macon College, in Virginia, who afterwards studied law—and obtained a license to practice in all the counties of this State. He subsequently located at Lexington, in said county, where he became eminent in his profession. He afterwards removed to Louisville, Kentucky, where he did a lucrative practice. Upon the breaking out of the war, he espoused the cause of the South, and the last the writer heard of him he was a refugee in the State of Georgia, in January, 1865.

It was during his stay at College that Mr. Clemmons, who was a man of fine mind and great powers of application, made the great discovery which has since been claimed by Professor Morse. The writer of this has himself heard Mr. Clemmons say that he was the original inventor of the telegraph. But the statement of Mr. Clemmons is not all the evidence which he has upon the subject. More than twenty years ago he heard the Rev. Baxter Clegg say that he was in College with Mr. Clemmons at the time he made the invention, which he communicated to him, explaining to him all the workings of it as well as he could.

We should be glad for the distinction of Mr. Clemmons, a North Carolinian, if his claims to the discovery of the present system of telegraphing could be maintained. "Justice" is evidently confident of the things he states, but Professor Morse has been so long associated with and regarded as the author of the wired method of communication as to render it next to impossible to transfer it to the credit of any one else.

The Freedmen of Wilmington.

The Wilmington Herald thus describes a meeting of the freedmen in that city last Tuesday:

There was another poster on the street corners yesterday announcing a mass meeting of freedmen to be held at the African grave yard [a very grave place for a grave meeting,] in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, to which all were invited to attend to hear John Nixon deliver a union address. Four o'clock came along about the usual hour, but it brought but few of the freedmen together, unless the female element can be included under that denomination. Nevertheless, after a little delay and a call for assembling from an enthusiastic African, the scattered elements were gathered together, consisting mostly of women and young boys, under the shade of a few trees, for a nucleus around which the later arrivals should congregate. They then came by two's and three's and at times by half-dozens, until near two hundred were in harmony, when there was a motion offered that Wm. Finney be called to preside, which of course was all agreeable, and William did so. He then tated the object of the meeting to be to raise a deficiency of money yet required to defray the expenses of the delegates to the convention at Raleigh. Without going into anything deeper than the pockets of his hearers he addressed himself, not, however, before telling them flat that eighty dollars was wanted and eighty dollars must be had. He said it was a ways in Wilmington "jess so," "jess so," until the time come for the money and then the nerve was touched and the negro was missing, but the money must come, and that at all hazards.

Then John Nixon who was to deliver the union address introduced himself to the crowd. He said they were in a land of friends. If these whites did not treat them at all times right they must not notice it, but go on and bow to them, treat them all right, and be loyal to them. He was a delegate to Raleigh, and was going there to do the best he could for his hearers who had sent him. He was asking to be acknowledged a free and independent citizen of the United States—wanted equal and exact equal rights. He asked nothing more and would be satisfied with nothing less. They had no right to abor him of these. He wanted all rights, chief of which was the right to vote like a white man. He did not care whether it was based upon "qualified, universal suffrage or not, but he wanted it. He advised all to be ladies and gentlemen. If they wanted to be respected by God they must respect themselves.

After this address calls were made for "Sampson, Sampson," from all parts of the multitude, when Sampson ascended the box and indulged in a flight of fancy and imagination and excused himself, closing his remarks with an appeal for the balance of eighty dollars.

Then Wm. Smith, another delegate, arose, and he gave it to them in broken doses, about suffrage, the great and living God, their living in an enemy's country, and Andy Johnson with Mr. Lincoln and three years ago. He excited himself greatly from all appearances, and just such another effort would be fatal beyond doubt. He was not so liberal as Nixon towards his white brethren, as they are termed, and neither as intelligible. He so completely "obfuscated" the whole affair that some of the crowd found themselves on the wrong street to their homes after departing. In the language of Artemus Ward, they asked him to "glide in the mazy dance" and he "glode." He made a call also for the "rhino" to the amount of the eighty.

The whole fact is, this meeting was a grand failure, and was entirely unnecessary, plainly showing that these people have "mass meetings on the brain."

United States District Court.

The United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia met Monday, at Alexandria, for the first time since the war commenced. Judge John C. Underwood presided.

ATTORNEY CHANDLER.

District Attorney L. H. Chandler, on opening the court, made a speech congratulating the court and the country on the conclusion of the war, and urged conciliation in all matters relating to the confiscation of property. Judge Underwood coincided in the views expressed by the District Attorney, and ordered that in all cases where pardons had been granted and the amnesty oath taken, save those excepted under the President's proclamation, the suits should be dismissed on payment of costs.

In conformity with this order a number of persons came forward and paid their costs, and proceedings against them will be dropped. This, in effect, is a renunciation of confiscation in Virginia; and is in accordance with a declaration made a short time ago by District Attorney Chandler, that he had received orders to discontinue all confiscations. This course undoubtedly receives the sanction of the highest authority.

FEARFUL.—It is said that in all eighty-two thousand victims of the cholera and bad living were buried in Egypt within six weeks.

Brevet Brigadier General Rivers, late in command of Morehead City, N. C., died there last week of bilious fever, after an illness of four days.

Mr. Editor:—The following is

STRANGE BUT TRUE.

'Twas late last night that I was sitting, in my chamber, lonely, knitting,
Knitting on the same old stocking, I'd commenced before the war;
Knitting carefully, I was healing—when methought I heard one stealing,
Stealing softly up the stairway, leading to my chamber door.
This I thought, and listened more.

Soon I heard a gentle knocking—hastily I dropped my stocking;
Dropped my knitting—the old stocking I commenced before the war.
Again, and louder, came the rapping—as tho' they thought that I was napping;
Me a napping? Knitting, napping? Me who never—"Ope the door."
This the voice said—"Ope the door!"

"'Tis Sally's voice"—says I—"'tis Sally, and I know she's got some news,
And I'm powerful glad she's come too, for I most did have the blues.
"Sally," says I, "Sally, how dye?" "What's the news? Do have a chair?"
"Glorious news, my Peggy darling—glorious news from Market Square,"
"From Shepherd's Store in Market Square."

At Shepherd's Store, they've got new shoes—such bran new, laced up, tasseled beauties.
Morocco, kid, and patent leather—Congress gaiters, toe-tipped bootees.
Balmoral, Prunello and Creole. Mens and womens, boys and girls;
Such a sight it is to behold—they're the cheapest in the world.
The very cheapest in the world.

And Peggy, dear, they've got new hats—military and civilian.
All the style of Frenchy fashion—a la Emp'reur Maximilian.
And I told my husband, Johnny, "throw aside that rusty beaver."
"Go to Shepherd's—market square—get a hat you gay deceiver,
Get a hat, and burn your beaver."

Well, Peg—John went to market square—he's just got back—rigged up so gay,
A bran new suit from top to toe—and cheap as dirt, for ready pay:
And I advise you, Peggy darling—to give what cash you've got to spare,
To your dear Bobby in the morning—and send him straight to Market Square"
To Shepherd's Store, in Market Square.

"I'll do it, Sally dear"—says I—I'll send Bob early in the morn,
I'll send him straight to Shepherd's Store—I will as sure as I am born,
Good-bye, dear Sally! Must you go? Yes—good-bye, Peggy—now take care,
Be sure that Bob finds the right place—'tis SHEPHERD'S STORE, at Market Square.
Shepherd's Store, at Market Square.

We have a fine assortment of Ready-made Clothing—Boots and Shoes—Hats, &c., which we will sell at very low prices.

NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT OF THE CONdition of the N. C. Mutual Life Insurance Company will show that after all the vicissitudes of the war, the Company is still strong, and merits the continuance of the patronage heretofore so generously bestowed:

ASSETS.

Premium Notes liable to assessment,	$120,198
Bonds of solvent individuals.....	32,004
		$152,202

LIABILITIES.

Losses allowed up to January 1, 1865.....	$35,249
Excess of assets over liabilities		$116,953

To meet the above liabilities, the Directors have ordered the collection of the individual bonds, and an assessment of 20 per cent. on the premium notes, which should yield

Bonds.....	$23 904
Assessments	25,339
		$49,243
Losses.....	35,249
An excess of.....		$13,994

Sufficient to cover all deficiencies.

If the Company shall be patronized by the public as before the war, there will be the annual profits in cash and premium notes which may be added to the assets now in hand, for the payment of liabilities.

Nearly all the above liabilities would have been extinguished but for the refusal of claimants to receive the currency in circulation at the time of the losses. They cannot reasonably complain of some delay. It will be remembered that the premium notes are the accumulations of notes given by insurers for one half their annual premiums, which the Company had the right to require to be paid in cash. On the face of the note the insurer promises to pay whenever requested by the Directors, and all payments on assessments will be so much added to the sum insured, by diminishing to that amount the premium note to be deducted in case of loss. Many insurers pay the whole premium incased as a matter of choice. It is believed that the losses may be paid by the first instalment of ten per cent added to the contemplated profits; but it is the firm intention of the directors to meet all their liabilities as promptly as the condition of the country will admit, even if to do so, it may be necessary to order the collection of all the premium notes.

THE CARELESS WORD.

'Twas but a word a careless word,
As thistle down it seemed so light;
It paused a moment on the air,
Then onward winged its heedless flight.

Another lip caught up the word,
And breathed it with a haughty sneer;
It gathered weight as on it sped,
That careless word, in its career.

Then rumor caught the flying word,
And busy gossip gave it weight,
Until that little word became
A vehicle of angry hate.

And then that word was winged with fire,
Its mission was a thing of pain;
For soon it fell like lava drops
Upon a wildly tortured brain.

And then another page of life,
With burning, scalding tears was blurred,
A load of care was heavier made,
It added weight, that careless word.

That careless word, how it scorched
A fainting, bleeding, quivering heart;
'Twas like a hungry fire, that searched
Through every tender part.

How wildly throbbed that aching heart,
Deep agony its fountains stirred;
It calmed—but bitter ashes marked
The pathway of that careless word.

Sold for Less Than Cost.

George Washington Bricks, in a letter to the Mobile Advertizer, gets off the following:

I was standing quietly on the front steps of the Customhouse the other day, looking casually at a beautiful creature sitting at one of the parlor windows of the Battle House, and trying to discover whether she was not an old acquaintance of mine from the country, when a strange young man with a limp in his walk, came up and stopped near me.

"I'll swear its mighty hot walking for a lame man to-day," said he.

Whether the remark was addressed to me or to society at large, I did not think it worth while to inquire, but simply said in reply:

"I should think so really. May I ask how you came to be lame?"

This was an impertinent question I know; but as he had provoked it I did not think there could be much harm in it.

"Certainly, sir," said he, "I got hurt, and very badly too, in a personal difficulty I had with a northern man named Meade."

"Ah indeed!" said I.

"Yes; the thing created a good deal of excitement at the time, and as an account of it was published in all the newspapers, both North and South, you must have read something about it."

"Not a word, I assure you. When and where did it happen?"

"Why, a little over two years ago," said he, "at a town in Pennsylvania called Gatty-burg."

"Sold again, and the money received!" shouted a small newsboy, who was standing by and heard the conversation, but who now took to his heels

"My gallant young friend," said I, "I acknowledge the corn cheerfully. And speaking of corn—do you ever drink anything?" at the same time tossing my head in the direction of the nearest drinking saloon.

"Very rarely," was the reply; "but when I do, its generally about this time of day"

"Well," said I, "as you are doubtless in a hurry to get to the grocery, I won't detain you any longer."

And I walked off and left him.

I shall never cease to regret that the small newsboy didn't stay there to hear the end of it.

GUNS AND AMMUNITION FOR THE SOUTH.—The hunting season is now at hand, it will please our partridge shooters to learn that the Secretary of the Treasury is permitting all gunsmiths in the South who have taken the oath of allegiance to supply themselves from the Northern markets with powder, shot, caps and fowling pieces, in quantity to suit their trade. At present it is necessary, before the goods can be shipped, that application shall be made to the custom house officer, where they are bought, and shall be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury; but the arms dealers of New York are using their influence to have the collector of that port empowered to decide on all applications. The shipments already made South from New York, consisting solely of sporting appliances, are said to be very large.—No permission has been given for the sale of muskets, bullets, bullet-moulds, or any arms ordinarily used in war, and we imagine no such permission is desired. We cannot imagine any class of articles less wanted at the South at this time.

A GOOD MATCH FOR SOMEBODY.—Marriageable young ladies should read and ponder upon the following: A young man in Aroostock county, Maine, advertising for a wife, speaks of himself as follows: "I am eighteen years old, have a good set of teeth, and believe in Andy Johnson, the star spangled banner and the 4th of July. I have taken up a State lot, cleared up eighteen acres last year, and seeded ten of it down. My buckwheat looks first-rate, and the oats and potatoes are bully. I have got nine sheep, a two year old bull, and two heifers, besides a house and barn. I want to get married. I want to buy bread and butter, hoopskirts and waterfalls for some person of the female pursuasion during life. That's what's the matter with me.—But I don't know how to do it."

J. W. BRADLEY'S NEW PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, (OR DOUBLE) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION CONSISTS OF DUPLEX (OR two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, alternately Drawn Tight and Firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They cannot break or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful shape. Ladies can dress as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever was or can be made.

The great additional and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm-Chairs, for Promenade and Home Dress, as the Skirt can be raised when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Skirt of Small Dress.

A Lady having enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great Convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never after be willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with a ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the Single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing out the rods when dragging down stairs, at the steps, &c., &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

LATEST NEWS.

BRITISH WAR STEAMER IN PURSUIT OF THE SHENANDOAH.

The Panama Star of Sept. 16, says:

As soon as the despatch reached Acapulco giving news of the destruction of American whalers by the rebel pirate Shenandoah, the commander of the English war steamer Devastation, then lying in the harbor, sought an interview with Capt. G. P. Scott, of the United States steamer Sanarac, and informed him that he should set sail immediately with the Devastation in pursuit of the Shenandoah, and should treat the rebel cruiser as a pirate and capture her wherever she might be found. He was as good as his word, and left the port as soon as his ship could be got under way.

THE CONCORD BANK ROBBERY—ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

Boston, Sept. 26, 1865.

The following is a schedule of the property stolen from the Concord (Mass.) National Bank yesterday, as far as ascertained:

United States five-twenty bonds,	$27 000
Registered Bonds,	40 000
United States sixes of 1818,	91,000
United States seven three-tenths notes,	25,000
United States ten-forty bonds,	50,000
Compound interest notes,	10.200
Concord bills,	4 300
Rhode Island State bonds,	14,000
Maine State bonds,	19,000
Vermont State bonds,	5,000
Total,	$285 500

The directors of the bank have offered a reward of $30,000 for the detection of the robbers and the recovery of the stolen funds. The capital stock of the bank is $100 000. Geo. Heywood, Esq., is president, and John M Cheney, Esq., cashier.

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN ITEMS.

The correspondent of the London Times, at Biarritz, mentions the discovery of a reported plot against the Emperor, either on the way to San Sebastian or on the return to Bayenne. The parties concerned in it were aliens, including a brother or cousin of Orsini. Precautionary measures were taken, and the Queen of Spain insisted on accompanying the Emperor and Empress to the railroad station, notwithstanding it was night, in order that she might share any risk run by her guests.

The cholera has increased so much at Marseilles that the Mayor has summoned a meeting of the physicians to concert measures of relief.

Late advices from Marseilles report much alarm there. Many of the inhabitants are fleeing in consequence of the progress of the pestilence.

THE WIRZ TRIAL.

Washington, Sept. 26, 1865.—Upon the resumption of the Wirz trial this morning the prisoner appeared better for the two days interval that had been allowed between the session of the court. As it was understood that to-day would inaugurate the presentation of the testimony for the defense, the court was densely crowded, so much so that the air was positively fetid with the odor of so many breaths. It is not at all surprising that Wirz remains ill while he is forced day after day to breathe the noxious air of the court room.

Fathers Hamilton and Whelan, Catholic priests, who officiated among the Andersonville prisoners, and Col. Fannin, of the First Georgia (rebel) Reserves, who was stationed at that post, were then successively examined for the defence. They were not cognizant of the cruel treatment to the captives charged against Wirz, though some of it might possibly have been inflicted; but they thought if it had they would have known something of it. They had never seen the accused kick or kill men, though he was sometimes violent and profane. They acknowledged that dogs were kept by order of General Winder, to hunt those who escaped, but had never seen any of the men torn by the animals.

RUMORS CONCERNIG MEXICO.

It is currently reported that General Oriego, who will be the constitutional successor of President Juarez in a few months, has succeeded in effecting a very large loan for the republican government in Mexico, based on the security of confiscated property. It is well known that in San Fraucisco several hundred thousand dollars have recently been subscribed, and it is thought here if the loan was properly put before the public it would gain very largely in amount.—Since the rebel loan was negotiated openly both in Paris and London neither the French or British government could object to a Mexican loan being taken in this country The Mexican republicans want money rather than men; and the friends of the Monroe doctrine would, no doubt, contribute cheerfully to assist them. In this way, and by this means, the Emperor Maxmilian would very soon find out that he grasps a barren sceptre, without giving our government any further trouble.

NEW YORK POLITICIANS IN WASHINGTON.

Another irruption of New York politicians dropped down on the capital this morning. Ex-Governor Pierpont, Thurlow Weed, Mantilini Marble, General Cochrane, General Van Wyck, Mr. Chamberlain and several others of lesser note are here. Most of them are busily engaged buttonholding friends, avoiding rivals, and hovering around the departments and the doors of the White House mysteriously. Unfortunately for Weed, Marble and others of their ilk, the President is understood to have opinions of his own, and to be nowise backward in expressing them. Precisely what they expect to obtain is not divulged. A few days may determine

Mr. Jefferson Davis.—The Alexandria Gazette, of Saturday last says:

"After the adjournment of the Annual Council of the Episcopal Church of Virginia, on the evening of the 21st inst., a memorial to the President, for the pardon of Jefferson Davis, was presented to the clergy in attendance by W. H. Brown, Esq., the lay member from Winchester, for their signatures, and of the sixty clergymen present on the occasion, fifty-two signed the paper, though Bishop Johns, in a speech, opposed the measure."

A SNAKE CARRIED IN A LADY'S CRINOLINE.—We find the following remarkable but, no doubt, truthful statement in the Huntingdon (C. E.) Journal:

One day last week a party of young folks, male and female, in the township of Franklin, went to the huckleberry rock, a distance of about eight miles from this neighborhood. After reaching the rock the day was spent in the usual way—by picking berries and wandering over the vast plain of rock. Evening came, and the parties returned to their homes. One young lady, after reaching her residence and performing her customary work about the house, repaired to her room to retire for the night, and, upon undressing, what did she discover nicely entwined around her waist, between her crinoline and undergarments, but a snake fully twenty inches long! As might be expected, the lady's feelings can be better imagined than described. She gave the alarm, when other inmates of the house came to the room and dispatched his snakeship. It turned out to be one of the spotted adder species. The question is, how did the reptile manage to get in that position? Sometime during the day the young woman must have been sitting down on the rock, and the broad skirts now worn might possibly have covered the snake which, in its endeavors to escape, got between the garments, and so worked itself up to the waist unfelt by the lady. She states that several times during the day and evening she felt a sort of griping sensation about her body, but delicacy in company constrained her to bear it rather than to attempt to ascertain the cause.

A SPECK OF DANGER.—The minutest black spot on the enamel of a tooth, is an evidence that decay's effacing finger has touched it. Quickly interpose the SOZODONT as a safe guard, or the tooth is gone—and not only that one, but perhaps half-a-dozen.—Be assured that nothing but SOZODONT will either effectually prevent or arrest dental disease.

AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION.

Not a few of the worst disorders that affect mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out, none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the blood, instills the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humors which make disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body, and expells the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood. Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought for, and now for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects, but the trial of a single bottle will show the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken.

Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoction as usually made.

THESE EXTRACTS HAVE BEEN ADMITTED TO USE IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY, and are also in very general use in all the State HOSPITALS and PUBLIC SANITARY INSTITUTES throughout the land, as well as in private practices, and are considered as invaluable remedies.

ARMY SUPPLIES FOR TEXAS.

The correspondent of the London Times, writing from Matamoras, asserts that a conspiracy was on foot against the Emperor, either on his way to this location or on his return to Bayonne. The parties concerned in it were Bazaine, Almonte, Miramon, and count of Orizaba. Fortunately documents were taken, and the Queen of Spain induced an accomplice, implying the Emperor and Bazaine to the spiritual advice, notwithstanding it was right, to hint that she might share any fine that was to be granted.

The student has learned to smile at Maximilian, that the people had consented to a meeting of the physicians to consult measures of relief.

Late advices from Matamoras state much alarm there. Many of the Austrians are leaving, in consequence of the progress of the republicans.

Washington, June 18, 1867.—The Democratic Union of the Whig and Democratic Conservative Journal before the late term adjourned that had been allowed a privilege of the floor. As it was understood that the Democratic Union would be the organ of the Democracy for the future, the court was densely crowded, as much so that the rule prohibiting [illegible] was suspended. It is not at all surprising that the Democratic people should show their joy in hearing the restoration of the Union organ.

Robert Hamilton and Winston, Dudley printers, who obtained leaving the Democratic Advocate and Old Pacific, of the First Georgia district, Reconstruction Act, were introduced to the bar and duly examined for the defense. They were all acquainted with the draft instrument of the Democratic Union against Wirz, though some of them had been [illegible] while they would have thrown something of it. They had never seen the original draft of the bill, which, it was understood, was in the hands of Senator Wade and others. They understood that Judge Advocate Holt, by order of General Grant, had [illegible] with counsel, but had never seen any of the men sent by the [illegible].

RUMORS CONCERNING MEXICO.

It is currently reported, that General Ortega, who will be the constitutional successor of President Juarez in a few months, has succeeded in effecting a very large loan for the republican government in Mexico, based on the security of unentailed property. It is well known that in San Francisco several hundred thousand dollars have recently been subscribed, and it is thought likely if the loan can properly [illegible] the public [illegible] will freely [illegible] it. Should the rebel loan was supported equally both in Washington and London neither the French or British governments would object to Americans loan being taken in this country. The Mexican republicans want nothing rather than war; and the friends of the Monroe doctrine would, no doubt, contribute cheerfully to assist them. In this way, and by this means, the Emperor Maximilian could very soon find out that he [illegible] known enough, without giving our government any further trouble.

NEW YORK POLITICIANS IN WASHINGTON.

Another irruption of New York politicians disgusted decency on the capital city yesterday. Fisk[illegible] Fergusson, Tremble Wood, Mansfield Smith, General Graham, General Fox, Wm. H. Appleton and others, [illegible] Washington [illegible] of them are [illegible] Democratic Union, [illegible] Democratic Union; [illegible] they would have thrown something of it.
